Join fellow Township Trustees, Municipal Council members, Planning Commissioners, Zoning Commissioners, Appeals Boards members and Zoning Inspectors from throughout Greene County for an evening of education and entertainment.

Watch the Board of Zoning Appeals from the community of Feara Heights wrestle with a variance request. Everything that could possibly go wrong, does. Topics such as maintaining order, conflicts of interest, and other zoning challenges will be highlighted.

About the Program
These two workshops are designed to offer board and commission members with varying levels of experience a basic understanding of how zoning works. They are also designed to offer a look at proper procedures and policies to insure fair and equitable decisions.

Presenters
Stephanie Hayden is an Assistant Prosecutor with the Greene County Prosecutor’s Office.

Ken LeBlanc is Executive Director of the Regional Planning & Coordinating Commission of Greene County.

Together, the presenters offer well over forty years of experience with zoning and public boards.

Did you know?
Within Greene County, all 12 townships and 11 municipalities have adopted their own zoning regulations. A combined total of about 350 local elected officials, public employees and citizens appointed to boards deal directly with zoning decisions in Greene County.

REGISTRATION
These workshops are provided free of charge to local officials and board members in Greene County. However, to make sure your experience is as rewarding as we want it to be, we need to know the approximate attendance for each evening.

Please RSVP to Rhonda Painter at the Regional Planning & Coordinating Commission of Greene County with your name. If registering more than one person, please provide the names of all those attending from your group.
